How a university with real connections to industry can make a real difference to your ambitions

When you are looking at university choices after school or college you are left with lots of possibilities Trying to compare one university course with another is really difficult - you could have anything between five and fifty possible destinations when you are searching for your subject on ucas com And then how do you compare differences in universities - the size of the campus, its location, facilities, social life etc ? What makes one university better for you than another?

Graduates are competing for jobs at all levels so it can take time and effort to get your foot on the career ladder so an important issue when you are selecting a university is employability The reality is that for most subjects an undergraduate degree is only the first step into a well-paid career You may have to show how your course has prepared you for the job you want to do, and how you made the most of any work experience you undertook during your study

If you really want to know how well a university prepares its graduates for their future careers, the most relevant indicator of success are its graduate destinations When you're looking at potential universities, many will point to how many graduates get jobs, but remember to look at what jobs they get from which employers If students are being snapped up by big companies the chances are that the university could be doing something right

Bucks New University has graduates working for Google, BMW, Sony, Cath Kidston John Lewis and Puma among others Psychology and Criminology graduates work for Thames Valley Police (HQ) and the National Probation Service These organisations are among the most widely recognised and respected in their sectors

Billy Coulson

Studied: BA (Hons) Advertising Management and Digital Communications

Role: Partnership Manager, Williams F1

One of the ways that Bucks can help you land a job with employers like these is by connecting you with industry while you study. Every institution claims to do this, but if you speak to students or ask questions at open days you'll find out just how connected they really are.

Billy Coulson earned a BA (Hons) in Advertising Management and Digital Communications from Bucks and now works for the Williams F1 team. He knows that making the right connections while he was studying was a huge help. "My time at Bucks offered great networking opportunities and frequent guest speakers from the industry," he says. "There's no doubt that my course was a solid business grounding."

Rachel Pritchard

Studied: BA (Hons) Public Relations and Marketing Communications

Role: PR Account Executive at Lewis PR

The benefits of experience apply to the teaching staff, too. Find out whether the university you're interested in have tutors who are also experts in their industry. There's nothing better that learning from an academic who is still active in the field, so you know that what your learning is used in business now and will be relevant to that company when you graduate.

Rachel Pritchard gained a BA (Hons) in Public Relations and Marketing Communications from Bucks and now works for a top PR Agency. She says that having the right lecturers really helped set her on the path to a great career. "They often still work in the industry themselves so they bring you on board with some of their own clients. I got involved in market research, ran an event for 250 people and started my own business... all with the support of my lecturers."

BOATYARD PLANS GET THE GO AHEAD

• An artist's impression of how the development is to look

£20million revamp for Jericho docks

By Adam Flinn
adam.flinn@oxfordnewspapers.co.uk

MULTI-MILLION pound plans to redevelop Jericho boatyard with new community facilities and houses were given final approval on Tuesday evening.

Oxford City Council's West Area Planning Committee voted the £20million project through by seven votes to one.

Site developers Strategic Iconic Assets Heritage Acquisition Fund (SIAHAF) plan to build a new community centre, restaurant, public square, bridge, boatyard and 23 houses on the land.

The final details of the project are set to be finalised between developers and the council in the next few weeks.

And despite worries that the development did not reach the council's 50 per cent social housing target – it only has 39 per cent – it was voted through.

Bob Price, leader of Oxford City Council, said: "It's a very important first step and we hope in the next six weeks we will finalise the rest of it.

"We concluded it was a good, if not ideal, solution and will help ensure the site isn't left vacant for another 10 years."

The one councillor who voted against the application was Michael Gotch.

He raised concerns that the houses' gardens would be too small, that they would overlook neighbouring properties and that the environment around St Barnabas Church would be damaged.

He said: "I would like the houses to be reduced in numbers so they all had bigger gardens, the impact on neighbouring houses reduced and the project reduced in bulk substantially so the environment around the church is enhanced.

"This is a scheme that is well on the way to being a good workable scheme, but it has these flaws that want putting right before it is built."

The changing face of Didcot

With Didcot growing at a rate of knots, Jack Johnson looks into the impact of the town's expansion on neighbouring villages...

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

DIDCOT is increasing in size like no other town in South Oxfordshire and shows no sign of stopping.

But what effect will this have on villages just a stone's throw away?

Parishioners are certainly not against the development of Didcot and make the most of the town's train station, cinema and arts centre.

However, the villages share a common concern – losing their identity to an expanding town.

"We're worried about the village eventually turning into a quaint suburb of Didcot," said Harwell Parish Council chairman David Marsh.

Chairman of West Hagbourne Parish Council Michael Butler added: "We are very concerned about the possibility of being assimilated into the south of Didcot."

"It is important to say we're not anti-Didcot – it is not like everything will be doom and gloom," continued Tom Bowtell, chairman of Long Wittenham Parish Council – "but the risk is we end up being engulfed."

According to South Oxfordshire District Council, the town will be home to 30,000 residents as of next year and it is no surprise with building work at the 3,300-home Great Western Park estate well underway.

Meanwhile, plans for 4,450 homes at neighbouring Valley Park were submitted last month – 2,000 more than originally planned.

Developers also want to build a 2,030-home estate north of Ladygrove, and several smaller clumps of housing have been approved around the town.

Valley Park, although seen as an extension of Didcot, is actually within the boundaries of Harwell and Cllr Marsh is fighting to constrain the town's growth.

"Change is inevitable and it is how to manage it that is the challenge," he said. "There is some opportunity to put some constraints on it."

The A34 slices through Harwell but acts almost as a buffer, protecting the village from over development from the east.

Cllr Marsh added: "We're lucky to have the A34 there. We talk to other villages and they don't have such a big metal divide.

"People have already said they will be putting their house on the market but we have no idea if that is a reaction or a reality."

To the south of Didcot is the village of West Hagbourne, which currently has a green buffer between itself and the town.

When it is fully developed, Great Western Park will stretch down towards the village, while 154 homes are currently being built on Park Road just to the north of West Hagbourne.

However, with a second phase of the Orchard Centre in the pipeline and new sports facilities at Great Western Park, Cllr Butler accepted that not all of Didcot's growth was bad news for the village.

"It is a much better place to shop, there are more facilities and there will be new sports centres, all of which will come to be of use to the village," he said.

Generally, the growth of Didcot is not completely a bad thing.

Another large estate of just over 2,000 homes will lie to the north of the town and could bring with it a new leisure centre.

Currently, that development lies within the parish of Long Wittenham – a village situated four miles from the centre of Didcot.

Traffic is a big concern for parishioners with motorists using it as a rat-run to the Thames crossing at Clifton Hampden and towards Oxford.

Cllr Bowtell said: "With all the new housing in Didcot, a third river crossing near Culham is imperative.

"The traffic through the village is the big talking point," he added.

"There really isn't anything else we can do and the only practical solution is to have another bridge."

• A map of housing developments planned for Didcot

History of Didcot

43 – 800 – Didcot is just farmwood and marshland. The first Iron Age settlements begin to emerge.

1140 – The village of Didcot is destroyed during the civil war between Queen Matilda and King Steven.

1155 – 1071 – The manor of Didcot is owned by several minor barons and families, including the Stonor's. Didcot was held by the State from 1630 before the Stonor's reclaimed it in 1660 upon the restoration of the monarchy.

1720 – 1830 – A working class population emerges after the Stonor's sell off land and the seven landowners divide up Didcot. The Great Western Railway is laid.

1844 – Didcot becomes a branch junction to Oxford and Isambard Kingdom Brunel's covered station is erected leading to a demand in housing from railwaymen and their families.

1908 – 1910 – Development begins with eight streets of housing making up the North bourne estate.

1914 – 1918 – The First World War brings an arrival of soldiers to the area, creating a housing crisis in what was a quiet rural Didcot.

1920 – 1930 – Large estates are built while the Broadway transforms from a quiet residential road into a shopping centre. Schools and churches are also built.

1945 – 1960 – Didcot faces another housing crisis after the Atomic Energy Research Establishment is opened in Harwell. More homes are built and larger estates are formed.

1960 – 2000 – Didcot Power Station is built and begins operation in 1970. This leads to further growth and emergence of the Ladygrove estate in the 1990s.

2000 – The town is earmarked for further development and is named as the centre of the Science Vale.

2002 – Planning application for 3,300-home estate Great Western Park is submitted.

2009 – South Oxfordshire District Council grants outline planning permission.

2011 – Great Western Park building work starts.

2013 – Plans to build a 2,030-home estate north of Ladygrove are put on show.

2015 – Planning application for 4,450 homes at Valley Park, next to Great Western Park submitted to Vale of White Horse District Council.

Motion to lower uni flats rejected

The Castle Mill student flats as seen from Port Meadow

PROPOSALS to lower the height of controversial student flats overlooking Port Meadow have been rejected following a vote of Oxford University's governing parliament on Tuesday.

The university's Congregation voted 536 against and 210 for a motion that would have obliged the university to remove one floor from its Castle Mill accommodation.

Campaigners had been calling for the flats to be lowered because of the "severe adverse harm" they say had been done to the landscape of Oxford from Port Meadow.

They have been protesting for the past two years against the buildings and the fight may not be over yet if campaigners decide to force a postal vote of the Congregation's 4,500 members.

Nicky Moeran, of the Save Port Meadow Campaign, said: "Oxford University has signalled it prefers to put its financial interest before its responsibility to Oxford's heritage.

"However we were pleased to hear that the university registrar expressed regret for their failures in process and no one defended the buildings as they stand.

"In spite of the vale the tone of the debate shows the university is pretty ashamed of itself and rightly so.

"Oxford's spell has been broken by these buildings and the cavalier process that led to them being built – the people of Oxford expect action that puts that right."

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Representatives of Oxford University had said that lowering the buildings would cost them around £30million – £6m more than it originally cost to build them.

The flats hold approximately 300 students, but the buildings would have to have been completely closed had the motion been approved.

A statement released by the university said: "Congregation members debated the resolution at length, rejecting it by 536 votes to 210.

"The decisions of a Congregation vote may be challenged in a postal ballot of all its members.

"It is open to supporters of the original resolution to seek such a ballot.

"The university council will consider next steps on Castle Mill in due course and in the light of any postal vote."

Jericho plans voted through by council

He added: "But unfortunately it was approved so that's not going to be the case."

The site, off St Barnabas Street, has been derelict for 10 years and previous development plans were rejected.

Nick Band, spokesman for SIAHAF, said: "We're absolutely delighted. It's been a long haul and worth the wait.

"The whole development's going to bring a new focus to Jericho because what we want to do is reconnect that part of Oxford with the canal.

"We did move social housing up from 32 per cent so we have gone some way to getting closer to their target, and whilst there was debate on it, it didn't hold back the application."

Building could begin in the next four months and is due to finish in 2017.

Campaigners call for infrastructure as Science Vale masterplan is revealed

'Wantage needs more'

By Jack Johnson
jack@thegloucestershirepress.co.uk

CAMPAIGNERS in Wantage are calling for more infrastructure improvements in and around the town amid the publication of a masterplan for Science Vale.

An Area Action Plan has been produced by Vale of White Horse and South Oxfordshire district councils, outlining major developments and innovation.

Science Vale includes Wantage Grove, Didcot Culham Sutton Courtenay Harwell and Chilton.

It combines research and development facilities at Harwell Oxford, Culham Science Centre and Milton Park.

Three major housing developments at Grove Airfield, Monk's Farm and Crab Hill will see 4,750 new homes surround Wantage and Grove by 2031.

The Vale's local plan also highlights Wantage as an area of growth and is seeking the reopening of Grove station.

Science Vale plans also include a Wantage eastern link road, upgrades to the A417 and A338 as well as three new primary schools and one secondary.

And residents group Wantage and Grove Campaign Group (WaGCG) say more infrastructure is needed to meet the housing numbers.

WaGCG leader Julie Mabberley said: "If we are providing at least five per cent of the housing required across Oxfordshire why don't we see at least five per cent of the investment being made in Wantage and Grove?

"Five per cent of the £815m investment in transport infrastructure will be about £42m that would fund our western relief road and the improvements to the A417."

She added: "Five per cent of the £500 million investment in rail improvements would fund the reopening of Grove Station.

"How long do we have to put up with the lack of funding in Wantage and Grove?"

Consultation for the Science Vale Area Action Plan begins on February 27 for seven weeks.

The plan also includes the transformation of Didcot in to what planners have termed a "modern hub" and a third Thames crossing near Culham.

Housing is a big part of the plans with Didcot expecting to become a science town with 6,340 new homes built by 2020 according to SODC's 2011 Core Strategy.

The strategy also says between 7,000 and 10,500 new jobs will be created in Science Vale by 2026.

More than £100m of government money has also been secured for infrastructure, including A34 improvements, a new Science Bridge over the A4130 and a Harwell link road.

As the Oxfordshire Guardian went to print the Vale's scrutiny committee were discussing the plan ahead of the consultation.

00-Blenheim: Bond shoots at the palace

RUMOURS are rife that Blenheim Palace could feature in the new James Bond film Spectre.

Cranes and camera crews surrounded the country house in Woodstock on Monday.

It is home to the 12th Duke of Marlborough and is the birthplace of Winston Churchill.

Actor Daniel Craig will play the iconic spy for the fourth time in the film - released on October 23.

Blenheim Palace declined to comment.

Residents took to social media to ate Twitter posting pictures and spouting rumours of 007's arrival.

Ben Freeman tweeted: "Can't believe 007 have been filming at Blenheim Palace in Oxfordshire."

Samantha McGregor posted: "Where is James?"

The palace was used to film 'Harry Potter and the Order of the Phoenix' and 'Gulliver's Travels'.

Hotel Watch

CHERWELL The first meeting of police and hoteliers in Cherwell to tackle child sex exploitation is to take place next week.

Hotel Watch will see them hold regular meetings to share information and concerns.

Around 15 hoteliers in Cherwell have signed up to the scheme set up in the wake of Operation Bullfinch—an investigation into child exploitation in Oxford.

PC Ian Allen said: "The hoteliers used to share concerns amongst a small group, but now they will be able to share any issues with a larger group and feed it into the police.

"If they have a problem with someone not paying, someone damaging a room or with child sexual exploitation, that information will now be shared much more widely."

Jobs on the way

WITNEY New jobs are set to be created at Stewart Milne Timber Systems based in Curbridge Business Park, it was announced on Monday.

More than 250 posts are being created nationally by the company with some of those destined for Witney, although it is currently unknown how many will be in the town.

Stewart Milne Group chief executive Glenn Allison said: "The message from us is that if you are talented then we would like to hear from you."

Spring start date set for Westgate development

BUILDING work on a £440million development of Westgate Shopping Centre in Oxford is set to begin this spring.

The Westgate Oxford Alliance a joint venture between Land Securities and The Crown Estate made the announcement on Monday, with preparatory work beginning immediately on the project.

Four extra retailers to move into the Westgate were also announced: clothes shops H&M and Superdry, shoe shop Schuh and jewellers Goldsmiths.

In total about 70 new shops are to be incorporated in the centre, including a flagship John Lewis store and five-screen cinema.

By Adam Flinn
adam@oxfordnewspapers.co.uk

An underground car park will also be built, with the existing multi-storey being demolished following its closure at the start of the year.

It is hoped that construction will be completed by autumn 2017 and will lead to the creation of 3,400 retail jobs.

Bob Price, leader of Oxford City Council, said: "This is an important day for the city of Oxford.

"As a key regeneration project for the city, Westgate Oxford will not only create many new jobs, it will also support the whole region including existing businesses by increasing footfall in the city.

"I am delighted to hear that construction will begin immediately."

Other shops confirmed for the Westgate include Next, Primark and fashion outlet Michael Kors.

Robert Noel, chief executive for Land Securities, said: "We've taken a significant step towards creating our vision for a world-class retail and leisure destination in Oxford.

"Alongside our growing list of customers, we are committed to creating a new Westgate Oxford which not only complements the city's beauty and heritage, but also enhances its global reputation as a great place to spend time."

Paul Clark, director of investment at The Crown Estate, added: "This significant milestone underscores our commitment to this ambitious redevelopment.

"It will totally transform the retail and leisure experience in Oxford and stand out as one of the best schemes of its kind in the UK."

Man dies after fire in Faringdon toilets

A 49-YEAR-OLD man who died after a fire at a public toilets in Faringdon on Monday was named yesterday as Jonathan Mills of Risinghurst, Oxford.

At around 1.55pm fire crews were called to the toilets in Southampton Street, close to the Pudgens store, where the man was pronounced dead at the scene.

A post mortem on Tuesday proved inconclusive, with further tests to be undertaken.

The death is being treated as unexplained, and the man's next of kin have been informed.

Police are looking for witnesses who saw a man that was wearing a light green and grey jacket and dark trousers who was in the area between 10am and 2pm.

Senior investigating officer Det Chief Insp Kevin Brown said: "It has been reported that members of the public saw the fire and tried to help the man out of the toilet block.

"I would like to speak to these people because they might have vital information that can aid our investigation."

Anyone with information should call police on 101.

£5.1m boost for fast broadband coverage

AN EXTRA 6 500 homes and businesses across Oxfordshire are set to receive superfast broadband after an additional £5 1million of funding was announced on Monday

Money is being given to the Rotter Broadband for Oxfordshire partnership, which has so far worked to give more than 30 000 premises access to faster broadband

• Didcot and Wantage MP Ed Vaizey

Four of the county s councils BT and central government are providing the funding to bring the level of properties with access to high speed fibre broadband to 95 per cent

By Adam Flinn
adam.taylor@newspapers.co.uk

Planning and surveying will begin in the autumn with the installation beginning before the end of the year

Digital economy minister and MP for Didcot and Wantage Ed Vaizey said "This announcement marks the next step in the transformation of the digital landscape of Oxfordshire

We want as many people as possible to enjoy the benefits of superfast broadband, and this new £5 1million investment will help us reach thousands more local homes and businesses

'By 2017 95 per cent of the UK will be able to access superfast speeds and t congratulate Better Broadband for Oxfordshire for the remarkable progress they have made already in helping us deliver this."

A total of £1m is being contributed by South Oxfordshire District Council (SODC) £500 000 from Cherwell District Council, £250 000 from Valo of White Horse District Council (VWHDC) and £200 000 from Oxfordshire County Council.

BT is providing £1 2m while the remaining £1 95m is coming from the government s Department for Culture Media and Sport.

John Cotton leader of SODC, said. "Our extra £1m investment extends the reach of superfast broadband in South Oxfordshire in the small pockets that currently experience slower coverage

This will make a big difference for many people across the district

Matthew Barbor, leader of VWHDC added. "This additional investment ensures that we address the areas of the Vale community which still don t receive the broadband speeds they need

Once completed, download speeds of up to 80 megabits per second will be available, as well as upload speeds of 20 megabits per second.

To check the progress of superfast broadband in Oxfordshire by postcode go to betterbroadbandoxfordshire org uk.

Councillors to vote on the future of chief executive job

COUNTY councillors will vote on the future of the authority's chief executive next Tuesday, February 17

Joanna Simons could be made redundant from her position saving the county council £250 000

All 63 councillors will vote on the decision as well as the council s 2015/16 budget proposals at County Hall in New Road

Ms Simons is responsible for the councils gross expenditure of £673million and accountable for the services it delivers such as schools

Leader Ian Hudspeth said change is necessary in order to save money

He continued "Our government grant is likely to disappear by 2020, with three-quarters of our budget going on care for two per cent of the most vulnerable members of the population

"Cutting the post of chief executive would save at least £250 000 annually and would reduce the impact of government cuts on these frontline services

If councillors approve this proposal there would be a new management structure based on the existing senior managers

Exposure

KIDLINGTON A man exposed himself to a 12 year-old girl and a 45-year old woman last month

The incident with the girl was at 5pm on January 29 as she walked along Banbury Road, while the second was at 9pm the next day in Oxford Road

He was described as white between 30 and 50 years-old, slim and of average height.

Shop burglaries

WEST OXON Police are appealing for witnesses after a series of burglaries at village stores on Friday and Saturday

Shops in Chadlington Kingham, Wootton and Glympton were targeted as well as a shop in Bodicote, near Banbury

Cigarettes, cash, alcohol and scratch cards were stolen from the stores in Chadlington, Bodicote and Wootton.

Thieves tried to get into shops in Kingham and Glympton but left empty handed

Lent campaign

OXON A new campaign has been launched by the Diocese of Oxford to encourage people to make a difference during Lent. Washdays15 is urging residents to do a washing-related activity such as cleaning a car to help their community

Images reveal extent of council HQ fire damage

VIDEO footage has shown the scale of devastation at South Oxfordshire and Vale of White Horse District Councils offices in Crowmarsh Gifford following an arson attack last month

The building was left in ruins after a blaze sparked in the early hours of January 15

About 80 per cent of the offices in Benson Lane were destroyed

The video shows debris strewn across the interior of the building, collapsed ceilings and smashed windows throughout the site

While its future is still being decided, staff are currently working at Abbey House in Abingdon, Cornerstone in Didcot and The Beacon in Wantage

John Cotton, leader of South Oxfordshire District Council, said: "The fact that we were up and running so soon is a result of good business continuity planning, mixed with some ingenuity and improvisation.

"As much as anything, else though, it's down to some serious hard work from our staff who have pulled together and risen to the challenge brilliantly.

"There's a long way to go yet, but I'm very happy that the majority of our residents will barely have noticed a blip in the services we're providing."

Mathew Barber, leader of Vale of White Horse District Council, added: "We're really grateful to everybody for their offers of support and practical help, as well as to people for being patient with some of our services being delayed.

"Thankfully we've managed to keep any disruption to a minimum.

He continued, "The most important thing is that nobody with an urgent problem has been made to wait a minute longer than they should.

As well as the council offices, neighbouring Chadwick Howard funeral directors and a thatched house in Quakers Corner, Roke, Marsh, were also attacked on the same night.

Andrew Main, 47, of Roke Marsh, appeared at Oxford Crown Court on January 30 charged with two counts of arson with intent to endanger life and two of arson reckless as to whether life was endangered.

The hearing was adjourned until April 10 with a trial if needed, expected to last for about a week.

'Unitary authority would benefit city'

THERE is widespread agreement that England is over centralised and it would be a good thing to devolve more power to local areas. The question is how this can be done.

The government's localism agenda began with a fanfare of democratic trumpets proclaiming local communities would get a real say in decisions that affect them. The reality is much less good.

The new planning regime has made things easier for developers and frackers and allowed the foisting of huge developments on small towns and rural communities, while cities like Oxford, where housing need is desperate, are prevented from providing genuinely affordable housing.

We need a new deal.

I am strongly in favour of unitary authorities with powers to make policy based on what is best in local circumstances.

In my own area we have not only divided local government, preventing the efficiency savings that could be made by all local services together; we also have half of those services run by a council that does not represent Oxford at all.

None of the 34 councillors of the ruling group on Oxfordshire County Council represent any area in the city of Oxford. We can see the consequences from the poor performance of Oxford city schools to lopsided rules on road repairs.

I have campaigned for many years for a unitary authority and I will continue to do so.

A big plus is it would make sure people know who is responsible for their services, to hold them to account. That has to be good for democracy, and the quality of decisions.

200 protest against Le Pen's Union talk

CROWDS of protestors gathered in Oxford on Thursday night to speak out against controversial French politician Marine Le Pen's invitation to speak at the Oxford Union.

Around 200 people took part in the protest outside the Union in Frewin Court where Mme Le Pen was speaking and debating with students

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

She is the president of the far right Front National party and came third in the 2012 French presidential election

Her views on Islam have proved controversial and was one of the topics she spoke about at the Oxford Union debate

Oxford Union came under pressure to cancel the invite

More than 300 people including residents councillors and university professors signed an open letter launched by campaign group Oxford Unite Against Fascism (UAF) ahead of the debate

Ian Mckendrick, spokesman for Oxford UAF said, "A significant proportion of our 3 000 members are migrant workers and many are Muslims

"They do vital work caring for the sick and providing essential support services, yet they are scapegoated and demonised

Not only is Marine Le Pen one of the worst culprits in Europe for stoking up racism against migrants and Muslims but she is also leader of a fascist party that is opposed to all democratic freedom.

"By demonstrating against Le Pen we can show fascism can be exposed and countered."

A statement by Oxford Union read. "An invitation from the Union is not an endorsement of any particular agenda.

"The Union believes in the principle of freedom of speech and we would encourage all members who disagree with an invited speaker's view to attend the event and question the speaker

"We invite no speakers who do not accept the right of our members to question them."

No arrests were made by police and nobody was injured

Supt Rory Freeman said 'Officers attended in order to maintain public safety and prevent disorder

"No offences were committed, and I would like to thank local residents for their patience and co-operation

Young politicians launch plan

THREE budding politicians representing Oxfordshire at Youth Parliament launched their 2015/16 manifesto at County Hall in Oxford last week.

Aaron Miles, 17, Rowan Ibbotson 13 and Tara Paxton Doggett 13 announced the key issues they want to bring up after hearing the views of 4 500 youngsters through a countywide vote.

They brought up issues including the safety of children improving education for those in care and making sure young people are aware of activities they can participate in

Tara the member for south Oxfordshire said "This past year has been fantastic

"The campaigns so far, are looking great and I can't wait for them to get put into action"

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are misted up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Stephen Lane feels that it's all a bit serious.

Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window in any type of frame and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just a cost saving people in many although that obviously helps.

Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which in a way is very sad for the service industry as a whole.

Cloudy2Clear services Oxfordshire from their local depots and Stephen is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. The motto is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but that it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Stephen a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Cowley brothers make it to Lego world finals

MOST children just play with their Lego blocks

But two brothers from Cowley have taken it a step further and made a competition winning robot

Leiden Quelch 13 and Leon, 16 are among nine budding engineers who make up C14 Robotics and their brainpower has booked them a trip to America on April 22

The group were crowned UK & Ireland First Lego League robotics champions in Loughborough on February 1 and they now have to raise £10 000 to compete at the world festival in St Louis Missouri

Education secretary Nicky Morgan presented the team with the trophy after they wowed judges with their robot named Jarvis

Leon said "It's amazing Last year we were watching teams who were like heroes to us

"We've worked really hard to get better this year but it still seems totally unreal to be someone else's heroes

"We're all really excited to be going to the World Festival in

jack.johnson@newspapers.co.uk

the America

"There are lots of other teams who worked hard but didn't make it this far and we will be there for them too

They were also tasked with coming up with an idea for learning new skills and they developed a computer game to help geography students learn about natural disasters

Their idea came from countless hours of confusion while sat in class

Leiden said "When we started studying geography we found the resources weren't very interesting

"We wanted to design something that would help students learn about natural disasters in a fun and educational way"

C14 Robotics is made up of home educated teenagers from Oxfordshire Berkshire and Hampshire who met at a chemistry group in 2013

Leiden added "The hardest part has been working together when we all live so far apart

"My mum's laptop is too old and slow to run the game so every week I have to copy game files from the PC onto a memory stick and take them to a team member in another county"

• Leon and Leiden Quelch (second and third from the left) celebrate with the rest of their teammates

Didcot Railway Centre day

JANUARY was a very quiet month for me with only one official engagement

That was the Mayor's day at the Didcot Railway Centre organised to help raise local awareness of the centre as a place to visit

The railway centre receives visitors from far and wide but many people I speak to carrying out my official functions say they have never been.

The day was entirely funded by the railway centre and manned by volunteers

I would like to thank the Black Cupboard Gang for preparing 3850 running the event and giving up their free time. to GWR 3650's owner Brian Thompson for allowing us to use her the guides for the carriage and workshop tours, Frank for the photos, and of course Didcot Railway Centre for providing the beautiful carriage, Coal & Water and lunch.

On April 26 the centre will be holding an OX11 day where anyone who has an OX11 post code can visit for free

It is an ideal opportunity to see what the centre has to offer I will be there selling raffle tickets to win the beautiful glass plate that has been donated by No Two Things

The plate has been created by local artist Charlie Davies and shows the power station before the demolition of the cooling towers last year

WIN tickets to see The Audience in London's West End

WIN tickets to see Kristin Scott Thomas in a new version of Peter Morgan's smash-hit play directed by Stephen Daldry. The critically acclaimed production returns to the West End for a limited season from 21 April 2015

For sixty years Elizabeth II has met each of her twelve Prime Ministers in a weekly audience at Buckingham Palace – a meeting like no other in British public life – it is private. Both parties have an unspoken agreement never to repeat what is said. Not even to their spouses.

The Audience breaks this contract of silence – and imagines a series of pivotal meetings between the Downing Street incumbents and their Queen. From Churchill to Cameron, each Prime Minister has used these private conversations as a sounding board and a confessional – sometimes intimate, sometimes explosive.

Closing date:
Friday April 10 2015

We have two pairs of tickets for this amazing production and if you want to be in with a chance of winning a pair all you have to do is answer this simple question:

Q: At which London theatre will The Audience be performed?

For more information and to buy tickets to the show please visit www.TheAudiencePlay.com

Terms And Conditions.

Each prize consists of two tickets (usual value £62.50 per ticket) to THE AUDIENCE at the Apollo Theatre, Shaftesbury Avenue, London. Tickets are valid for Monday – Wednesday performances at 7.30pm from Tuesday 21st April to Monday 4th May only.

All elements of the prize are strictly subject to availability and are non-transferable. All prize elements must be redeemed on the same date. Any additional expenses incurred over and above the prize element must be covered by the winner. The cost of travel is not included in the prize.

Winners will be contacted and informed via email on Monday April 13 and all tickets will be held at the theatre box office under the winner's name for collection on the day of the performance. Please collect tickets within one hour of the performance starting.

Welcome to Ford Logs

FORD logs are a leading producer of quality dry firewood based in Southern Oxfordshire and despite being a small company we're a friendly company that are here to help you

We specialise in producing quality dry Beech and Ash logs for woodburners open fires and fire pits and despite being based in South Oxfordshire, we deliver all over Oxfordshire, Berkshire and Wiltshere

Unlike our competitors we do not use other mixed hardwoods and to give the consumer peace of mind that a quality product will be received, all of our logs are inspected before being loaded onto our vehicles

Our firewood is UK sourced (ideally within a 40 mile radius of our yard) from local estates Parklands Managed Forests local arborists and our own tree surgery business with all of our wood being well seasoned and barn stored

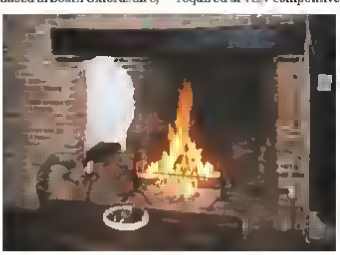
Beech and Ash produce greater BTU's therefore generating a longer burn generating a greater heat source and saving you money

Quality control is taken seriously within Fordlogs knowing that the wood you receive is at its optimum and ready to burn

All of our wood is constantly monitored with moisture reading devices with no wood leaving the yard above 22% moisture content (unless specified)

All of our logs are delivered loosely and not off loaded Roadside We can tip very close to where the logs are to be stacked

We also offer a professional Stacking service if required at very competitive rate



Quality control is taken seriously within Ford Logs, knowing that the wood you receive is at its optimum and ready to burn.

Simply fill in the contact form via our website with your enquiry or alternatively call us to discuss your individual requirements

We specialize and offer quality well seasoned Beech and Ash logs that won't disappoint you

Primarily as a landscaping company we can guarantee a quality product as we don't rely on logs as our main source of income.

We also offer quality low m/c Kindling which is neatly packed in small bags (for ease in starting fires) We offer a complete stacking service starting from £f0 00

For more information you can visit www fordlogs co uk or contact us on 07860 690 025 01367 7f0 551 and at logs@ fordlogs co uk.

In addition with that you can visit our sister site for all your landscaping design and grounds management requirements Visit www fordlandscaping. co uk

Registered Charity No 272616

Free microchipping with Dogs Trust

DogsTrust

DOGS TRUST, formerly known as the National Canine Defence League, is an animal welfare charity and humane society in the United Kingdom which specialises in the well-being of dogs

The charity rehabilitates and finds new homes for dogs which have been abandoned or given up by their owners. People are encouraged to sponsor a dog for at least £1 a week, even if they are not able to rehome the dog. It also runs microchipping and neutering schemes in the United Kingdom and abroad, in order to reduce the number of unwanted litters of puppies and stray dogs put to sleep by other organisations.

Dogs Trust has over 100 rehoming centres across the UK, and its first international rehoming centre opened in November 2009 in Dublin. The charity claims never to put a healthy dog to sleep.

History

The National Canine Defence League (NCDL) was founded in 1891 at a meeting during the first Crufts show chaired by Lady Gertrude Stock. The NCDL campaigned against vivisection, unnecessary muzzling and prolonged chaining, as well as providing care for stray dogs. It also campaigned against cruel treatment of dogs by railway companies, who often refused to provide water for dogs. More unusually, in the 1920s, it provided AA wardens with pistols. This was because dogs and other animals were often involved in car accidents, and the pistols were provided to allow the wardens to euthanise the animal as a last resort in the worst cases. In 1957, the NCDL campaigned against the use of the Russian space dogs in space flight, organising a minute's silence in honour of Laika, who died in orbit from overheating and stress. In 2003, the NCDL was rebranded as Dogs Trust.

Slogans

The charity is best known for its slogan "A Dog is for Life, not just for Christmas" which is used either in full or shortened to 'A Dog is for Life' in advertising. The phrase was created to reduce the number of dogs which are abandoned as unwanted by Clarissa Baldwin, the former Chief Executive of the charity. The slogan is a registered trademark. More recently it has adopted another slogan, "Dogs Trust Never Put a Healthy Dog Down".

Rehoming

Dogs Trust tries to rehome most dogs which it cares for and it runs 18 rehoming centres across the UK and Ireland, as well as two large mobile rehoming units known as Dogmobiles. These are large vehicles fitted with air conditioned kennels and are specially designed to tour the local area, carrying a small number of dogs from nearby rehoming centres that are desperately seeking new homes.

Dogs Trust never euthanises healthy dogs, however some dogs may have had a particularly bad start in life and would not be happy living in a normal home environment. The charity takes care of these dogs under its popular Sponsor a Dog scheme.

They have also created a sanctuary where selected dogs can live together free from excessive human contact.

At the beginning of June 2012, the charity opened its eighteenth UK rehoming centre in Leicestershire. Dogs Trust Loughborough aims to be the greenest animal rescue centre in the world. The centre runs on renewable energy from its biomass boiler, green roofs, under floor heating, solar thermal panels, photovoltaic panels and a rainwater recycling system. The project will be constructed with the aim to achieve BREEAM (BRE Environment Assessment Method) outstanding classification and the highest levels of sustainability. The charity says the facilities will significantly reduce running costs.

Campaigns

Dogs Trust has campaigned against docking of tails and unnecessary euthanasia, such as that carried out on foxhounds after fox hunting was banned by the Hunting Act 2004. It also offers free neutering services in certain poorer countries and runs international training programmes for other animal welfare charities with the aim of reducing feral populations.

The ground floor also benefits from a family bathroom, extra kitchen/utility space and a sun room.

The first floor accommodation is split into two sides accessed via separate staircases.

To one side there are three bedrooms, one of which is currently used as a dressing room, and a separate family bathroom. To the other side are two further bedrooms, one of which is currently being utilised as a study.

Outside, there is a small fenced garden to the front, and to the rear there are very private generous gardens with a sun terrace, laid mostly to lawn and with a hidden private orchard.

The property is believed to have all mains services connected.

Going, going, gone - only one apartment left in Cholsey

Just one luxury apartment remains at Thomas Homes' Fair Mile development at Cholsey following what has been described as "exceptionally high levels of interest" in the scheme.

The converted former Victorian hospital building, set in 100 acres of mature gardens, communal grounds and meadow land, offers property like no other, with each individual apartment packed with character features.

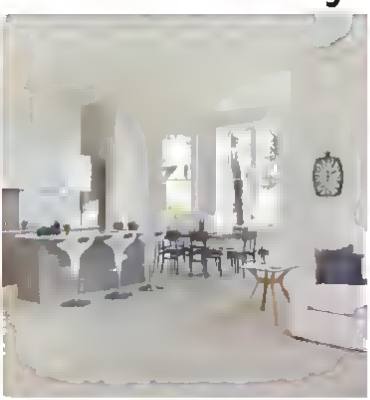
Plot 338, the remaining two bedroom apartment, is on the first floor of Ridgeway Court, the Eastern Wing of the Grade II listed building. It extends to 1,461 sq ft and boasts its own private entrance and staircase.

Karen Mole of Savills, who is marketing the scheme, said: "In our view, the remaining apartment would make an ideal second home or investment set within this special conversion.

"The apartment features an impressive open plan living/kitchen/dining room. With two large bay windows, the room is flooded with light and enjoys an open outlook across meadows and parkland. Further accommodation includes an open landing, master bedroom with en-suite shower room, guest bedroom, bathroom and utility.

"Fair Mile offers an opportunity to be part of a new community. With an on-site cricket pitch and pavilion and Great Hall which plays host to a calendar of community events, Fair Mile has so much to offer its residents."

Plot 338 is priced at £420,000. For further information and to view, contact Savills in Summertown on 01865 269010.



All the details about Second Charge Mortgages

Mark Weston from Perry Bishop & Chambers goes over the ins and outs of second charge mortgages

It was reported in January that second charge lending reached a seven-year high in November, reaching £53.2m, a reported 12.4 per cent increase on the same time a year earlier.

So with this in mind, we look to discuss what a second charge mortgage actually involves.

What is a second charge mortgage?

Getting their name due to them being seen as having secondary priority behind your main mortgage, second charge mortgages or second mortgages as they are more commonly known, are secured loans that use your property as security.

They are viewed as an alternative way of raising funds instead of remortgaging but there are certain factors that you should consider before you apply.

Firstly, you must be a homeowner to get a second mortgage though it should be noted that you do not physically need to live in the property.

It allows you to use any equity you may have in your home as security against another loan, meaning you will have two mortgages on the same property.

What is equity?

This is the percentage of your property that you own outright – worked out by deducting the amount of your mortgage that you owe from the value of the home.

An example of this is if your home is worth £250,000 and you have £150,000 left to pay on your mortgage, then you have £100,000 equity.

What is the difference between getting a second charge mortgage and remortgaging?

Having a worse credit rating than when you first took out your main mortgage could mean that remortgaging may see you pay more interest on your entire mortgage, as opposed to just on the amount you want to borrow.

There may also be an early repayment charge on your mortgage that you will have to pay if you were to remortgage and there is no guarantee of being put on a better interest rate than the one that you are currently on – with the risk of having to pay more.

With a second charge mortgage a higher interest rate will have to be paid on the secured loan, and you will have to pay mortgage arrangement fees. However, this could be less than the cost of having to pay the early repayment charge you would have to pay when remortgaging.

Choose wisely

You may lose your home if you cannot keep up repayments on your mortgage – either your main or second charge one.

If you are looking to consolidate smaller debts such as credit cards, you may end up paying more interest in the long term than you would if you carried on paying off the credit card.

As with any decision on your home, it is important that you seek advice from a professional mortgage adviser who will be able to assess your individual situation carefully to give you the advice best suited to your needs.

Mark Weston is from Perry Bishop & Chambers – for further information about second charge mortgages call the Faringdon office on 01367 240356, email mark.weston@mab.org.uk, or visit perrybishop.co.uk/services/mortgage-service-list.aspx

LETTINGS

Lettings prove popular in Faringdon

Demand for two and three bedroom houses in Faringdon has been high for some time and according to lettings specialists Perry Bishop & Leaders, there are now nowhere near enough of these homes available to rent to satisfy demand

As a result whenever a good quality two or three bedroom home comes onto the market it is snapped up very quickly achieving an excellent rent for the landlord

"Anyone considering a buy to let in Faringdon will find ample opportunities in the sales market, with plenty of two and three-bedroom houses up for sale," said Sharon Jackson Perry Bishop & Leaders Faringdon branch manager

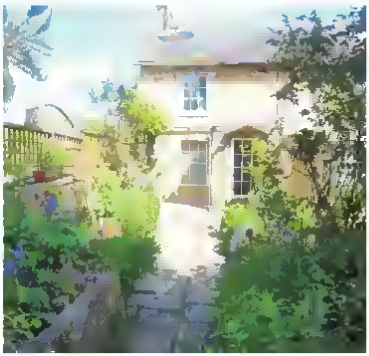
"A three bedroom house with a small garden priced at around £160 000 can give landlords a yield of more than six per cent, which is significantly more than one can earn from a savings account.

"If you are thinking of going down this route the first step is to consult an independent expert to ensure you buy the right property in the right location for the right place This will ensure your investment is successful from the start and for the long term.

Provided the property is well-presented with a modern decent quality kitchen and bathroom it will appeal to a wide range of renters and will be unlikely to remain empty for any period of time

"We work closely with Perry Bishop and Chambers which has an excellent selection of properties for sale in Faringdon If you find any properties you are interested in as a buy to-let we will be happy to provide free impartial advice on their rental potential We have been letting property here in Faringdon for decades and as well as our lengthy experience we are professionally qualified in residential lettings and property management," explained Ms Jackson

For more information and advice on the best investment properties in the area, or for those searching for a place to live in the area contact Perry Bishop & Leaders on 01367 244063 or visit the branch at 16 Market Place where the team of experienced and local property experts will be only too happy to help



Make February 2015 the month you fall in love with a new home

If you've been thinking about a possible house move then you'd do well to put your property on the market now to take advantage of the Valentine's property boom

You may well ask why Well simply having reviewed data from the last couple of years there's an uplift in interest in property during the week after Valentine's Day Web visits go up the numbers of tenants and buyers registering increases potential new landlords seeking rental valuations on their homes go up and more mortgage enquiries are received compared to during the first half of the month

There are a number of possible explanations for this Valentine's Day marks a milestone in many relationships people decide to move in together or move from a rental to an owned property they get engaged and in some instances they split up Whatever the situation, Valentine's Day encourages many people to consider a new home

Andrewe own data paints a positive picture on both the sales and lettings side of things Over the last two years data taken in the week after Valentine's Day compared with that of the week before has demonstrated that 14 per cent more lifestage landlord accounts are created A lifestage landlord is one that has taken to the decision to let their property rather than sell it, signalling that they'd like to keep their options open when moving in with a partner

On the sales side potential buyers registering in the week after Valentine's Day has increased by an average of five per cent over the last two years and last year there were 50 per cent more mortgage applications made after February 14 than in the week previously

A one off peak might have signalled a blip but we believe that this is a real and significant trend, so if you're planning to market your property for sale or have thought about taking your first steps as a landlord you'd be well advised to register with Andrews now to take advantage of the increase in property interest once Cupid has visited

Book your valuation now with Andrews and be ahead of the game when Cupid visits' andrewsonline.co.uk

Night to Remember

FOLLOWING on from his successful Licence to Thrill tour last year, 'Strictly Come Dancing' star Brendan Cole is back with another sexy and energetic show

A Night to Remember is making its way to Oxford's New Theatre on February 18.

With his trusty cast of eight dancers and 14 piece band, prepare for the unexpected when Brendan visits the theatre.

By James Richings
jamesr@tayo newspapers.co.uk

The enthusiastic performer, along with his crew, will cover dance moves from the Contemporary Waltz to the Cha Cha.

"We have all of the dances you'd expect such as Argentine Tango, Salsa, some beautiful Waltzes, Charleston, Quicksteps, we'll have them all," Brendan told the Guardian.

"On the night, I host the show whilst performing, and I love the fact that the show is very intimate between my cast, the audience and myself.

"It's a real variety type show with all you'd expect to see on Strictly but it's more atmospheric and geared up for a live audience."

Brendan moved to the UK from New Zealand aged 16 to pursue a career in ballroom dancing.

His breakthrough arrived in 1996 when he and fellow ballroom dancer Camilla Dallerup were contestants on the BBC show 'Come Dancing' as amateurs, before eventually becoming professionals on the programme.

The show was later changed to 'Strictly Come Dancing' in 2004 where the Kiwi has appeared in every series of the hit show as a professional dancer.

Prior to his dancing ventures, Brendan worked as a builder and roof layer.

"It hasn't always been my goal to become a dancer growing up but as you get older, opportunities present themselves and you make decisions that are best for you at the time," the 36-year old said.

"I could have very easily stayed in New Zealand and created my life there, but my dreams were bigger than that.

"I didn't know that it would necessarily be dance but I just knew I wanted more."

He added: "I left school and went into building because I wanted to work.

"I loved doing it and it was during this time, I made the decision that I would move to the UK to follow my dream of being one of the world's best dancers."

Tickets cost from £26.90 to £40.90.

The show at the George Street theatre, starts at 7.30pm.

Jazz Sunday

THE Ewen Baird Quartet will be at the Oxford Wine Café on Sunday February 16.

Originally from Malawi, Ewen was brought up in Edinburgh before moving to England 15 years ago.

He is also a multi-instrumentalist who can play the saxophone, flute and bass clarinet.

The free event in South Parade, Oxford starts at 6.30pm until 9pm.

O2 rock night

AMERICAN rock band The Used will be at Oxford's O2 Academy as part of their UK tour next Tuesday, February 17.

The group formed in 2001 and will be performing tunes off their album 'Imaginary Enemy' released last year.

Tickets cost £19.66.

The gig at the Cowley Road venue starts at 7pm.

Film screening

THE Milla Art Centre in Banbury is showing one of 2014's most popular films 'The Lego Movie' on February 17 from 10.45am.

Tickets cost £4 to £6 for the screening at the Spiceball Park venue.

Irish folk at its best

NORTHERN Irish folk musician Cara Dillon will bring soft and bluesy tones to the Nettlebed Folk Club near Wallingford on Monday February 16

The 39 year-old and her band is stopping off at the club in High Street as part of a 2015 tour which will take them from Oxfordshire to the Far East

Cara will be supported by husband Sam Lakeman, all-Ireland fiddle champion Niall Murphy, button accordion virtuoso Luke Daniels and Ed Boyd on guitar

"We always hope to take the audience on a bit of a journey through highs and lows including very emotional traditional folk ballads to foot stomping tune sets," Cara told the Guardian

Since releasing her debut self titled album back in 2001, the musician has gone from success to success.

Her first album was nominated for four awards at the BBC Radio 2 Folk Awards in 2002, and in 2010 she sang the title title track for Disney film Tinkerbell and the Great Fairy Rescue.

Cara added: "I'm not entirely sure if there was a single moment that was a springboard for my success as it seems to have been a constant stream of little things that have led me here.

"I suppose there have been the awards I've won along the way.

"The first two BBC Folk Awards I won back in 2002 definitely seemed to announce my arrival on the folk scene here in the UK.

"However I suppose when I sang the Disney movie title track I managed to reach a far wider audience throughout the world and that is something I'm very grateful for."

Tickets cost £17.50 for the show, which starts at 8pm.

Call 01628 636620 for details.

Open mic

THE Cape of Good Hope Pub in Iffley Road, Oxford, will host an open mic night next Wednesday, February 18.

Hosted by Lee Davies, the free event starts at 8.30pm.

Musical jokes

COMEDIC musician David O'Doherty will be at The Glee Club this Sunday, February 15.

The 39 year-old is bringing David O'Doherty Has Checked Everything to the comedy venue in Hythe Bridge Street from 6pm.

Tickets cost £13 to £15 and the gig is suitable for over 16s.

Hawking film

CRITICALLY acclaimed film The Theory of Everything will be shown at The Chipping Norton Theatre this Saturday, February 14 and next Tuesday, February 17.

Based on the love life of Stephen Hawking, it tells the story of the famous physicist and his first wife Jane Wilde who fall in love as students at Oxford University.

Both screenings start at 7.30pm at the Spring Street venue and tickets cost £6 to £6.

Rabbiting their way to Oxford

COCKNEY duo Chas & Dave have extended their run of shows to include a gig at the New Theatre Oxford on Monday February 16.

The two musicians come to the George Street venue off the back of a very triumphant On The Road UK tour.

"The show is 'The Chas & Dave' story" Chas told the Guardian.

"The first half of the show is Chas & Dave in the 70s and the second half of the show is the 80s and onward and will we also sing songs from our latest album 'That's What Happens' in the show."

The duo who have been together since 1975 achieved monumental success all over the UK with musical hits such as 'Rabbit', and 'Ain't No Pleasing You'.

And 'Margate' was used in the Only Fools and Horses' episode 'The Jolly Boys Outing' aired on Christmas Day 1989.

However despite their chart success Chas said that the proudest moment of his career was working with some of music's finest acts.

The pair opened for Led Zeppelin at the 1979 Knebworth Festival but Chas revealed that was far from highlight number one.

By James Richings
jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"The old Led Zeps were quite down the list compared with me working with the Beatles, Jerry Lee Lewis and Gene Vincent" he said.

"Dave and I sold out at the Royal Albert Hall and closed the Royal Variety performance and Glastonbury Festival."

Their current tour started on September 19 last year in Wolverhampton and was meant to finish on December 27 in Brighton.

However with the extra dates, the tour will now finish on May 25 at Liverpool's O2 Academy.

And to help the duo through the next few months will be plenty of jellied eels' Chas said.

The gig will start at 7.30pm.

Tickets cost between £28.40 and £31.40.

For more information about the show visit atgtickets.com/oxford or call 0844 871 3020.

Citroën Grand C4 Picasso

REVIEW: Citroen Grand C4 Picasso

By James Richings

JUST 12 months on from its UK launch, the Citroen Grand C4 Picasso has been crowned MPV of the Year for the second year in a row at the prestigious 2015 What Car? Car of the Year awards

The awards were held at Grosvenor House Hotel in London last month.

Judges praised the Grand C4 Picasso 1.6e HDi 115 Exclusive for offering one of the most efficient ways of transporting seven.

What Car? reviewers gave the French manufacturers four stars for their efforts citing its pros as a spacious and practical cabin with good visability and lots of equipment.

But cons included a "notchy" manual gearbox "unsettled ride" and "fiddly touch control screen system".

The Grand C4 Picasso does a rare thing which is offer sixth and seventh seats that can accommodate two adults, and that's before you consider the five to front." What Car? editor Jim Holder said.

"Everyone on board is sure to benefit from an impressive amount of space. The Grand C4 Picasso isn't just big though, it's clever.

"Families will also love the way the Citroën costs them less than rivals."

He continued: "The 1.6 litre diesel performed strongly in our True MPG tests, despite being powerful enough to haul around a full load of people and luggage.

"It's one of the most efficient ways of transporting seven, as well as being practical enough to meet a huge range of needs."

UK brand and sales director for Citroën Bekir Hassan said: "The Grand C4 Picasso continues to lead the way in terms of class-beating interior space, comfort and record levels of efficiency in the MPV segment.

"We're brimming with pride at the news that the Grand C4 Picasso has once again been named best MPV in the What Car? Car of the Year awards."

While the Citroen Grand C4 Picasso was the overall winner for the £10,000-£22,000 category the Seat Alhambra 2.0 TDI 140 Ecomotive S won the over £22,000 category while the Citroen C3 Picasso 1.4 VTi 95 VTR+ won the less than £16,000 category at the awards.

Lewis in contention for 100th league bout

SCRUM HALF Rob Lewis says London Welsh are finally getting to grips with life in the Aviva Premiership as he prepares to make his 100th league appearance for the club this weekend.

The Exiles welcome Sale Sharks to the Kassam Stadium on Sunday and are still in search of their first win of the season.

Welsh have been in European Challenge Cup and LV=Cup action over the last month and head into Sunday's match off the back of 23 consecutive defeats.

However, morale-boosting wins have slipped through their fingertips in recent weeks with Saracens and Newport Gwent Dragons coming from behind to claim victories.

Lewis, who is in his second spell at the club, is looking forward to the prospect of reaching a century of appearances for the Exiles.

The 27 year-old said, "It is an honour to be here that long and to get to that milestone.

"I am just grateful and privileged to do it."

The Exiles have made vast improvements in recent weeks and Lewis believes a win is not far away.

He continued: "We have been building well.

"Hopefully we can push on and get that win we are all craving for.

"It will be a good reward for all the hard work we have done because it is a tough league to be in.

"There have been a few eye openers and we're finally getting to terms with it.

"The comparative with where we are now and the beginning of the season is a big improvement."

Welsh have conceded on average 44 points a match in the Aviva Premiership this season and are 20 points adrift at the bottom of the table.

Rowland Phillips was employed as the club's defensive coach in November and says he has seen improvements.

He added: "The players are working with each other better and better on our tackling and that seems to have improved."

Phillips continued: "The training goes pretty well and we're all confident going into matches but under pressure people sometimes forget their roles or get exposed.

"We're focusing on getting close to matchday intensity in training so we can get used to that pressure."

Kick off on Sunday has been moved forward to 1pm.

Ferguson is upbeat ahead of Sale test

ASSISTANT coach Matt Ferguson is in an upbeat mood as London Welsh prepare for the visit of Sale Sharks in the Aviva Premiership this Sunday.

The Exiles return to league action after Saracens and Newport Gwent Dragons snatched victories from their grasp in the LV=Cup over consecutive weekends.

Although Ferguson admits frustration at letting slip leads in recent weeks, he is buoyed by the fact that Welsh are now having a greater say in matches.

He said: "They are not games we have been hanging on in, we have been the dominant force and not been able to nail it down.

"We're table-wise for that stand depending on which way you look at it it is definitely a positive compared to the start of the season."

The Exiles return to league action after a four week cup schedule and Ferguson is under no illusions about what will be in store on Sunday.

He added: "To win we have to be 100 per cent accurate for 100 per cent of the game.

"We have not done that yet so let's do it for the whole game and see where that takes the scoreboard."

Big win followed by cup defeat

OXFORD City were knocked out of the Oxfordshire Senior Cup on Tuesday evening, just three days after thrashing Brackley Town 5-0 in the Vanarama Conference North.

City were dumped out of the county cup at the quarter final stage after losing 2-1 away to Banbury United.

Paulo Mendes scored City's only goal just three minutes into the match but Banbury fought back to ensure they went through to the semi-finals.

It was a different story on Saturday when City made the trip to Northamptonshire.

Adi Yussuf gave City the lead early on, but they had to wait until the 86th minute before Darren Pond added the second.

The floodgates then opened as Tom Winters came off the bench to get the third, with Yussuf contributing two more to complete his hat-trick and seal a 5-0 win.

Saturday's win leaves City ninth in the standings with 43 points, four points off fifth-placed Chorley in the final play-off spot.

City host Lowestoft Town in their next league match this Saturday.

BOSS BACKS HOBAN TO BREAK HIS DUCK

HEAD coach Michael Appleton is backing striker Patrick Hoban to end his barren run in front of goal when Oxford United travel to promotion chasing Burton Albion on Saturday.

The 24-year old has yet to open his account since signing from Dundalk and started for the fourth game running in United's 1-0 defeat to struggling Accrington Stanley on Tuesday.

Hoban caught Appleton's eye after scoring 20 goals in the League of Ireland Premier Division last season.

But the Irishman's start to life at Oxford has been a frustrating one in front of goal.

On Saturday an offside flag denied him his first goal in a yellow shirt in the 1-1 draw against Luton Town.

And on Tuesday he was unable to find the net as United fell to a 91st minute defeat at Accrington.

Appleton said: "He will be frustrated but I think that is a good thing.

"Someone will get it soon they will feel the full force of the beast and I hope it's sooner rather than later.

"Come the end of the season I am sure he will have a smile on his face."

Terry Gornell hooked home from close range to end Accrington's five game losing streak on Tuesday but United were left incensed arguing that goalkeeper Ryan Clarke had been fouled.

Appleton added: "It was difficult to take because it looked like a clear foul on the goalkeeper.

We had our fair share of chances and obviously the frontmen need to do better.

"It's been the story of the season. We take a step forward and two steps back and we somehow have to grasp the responsibility as a group."

On Monday United signed French midfielder Jeremy Balmy until the end of the season and the 20-year old was due to make his debut in a development game for the club as the Oxfordshire Guardian went to print.

Appleton also revealed on Tuesday that United are close to snapping up another free agent thought to be an attacking midfielder.

United head into Saturday's match 17th in Sky Bet League Two and five points above the relegation zone.

Forward Alex MacDonald is ineligible to play against his old club due to the terms of his contract.

Johnny Berwick

Studied: BA (Hons) Sports Management & Rugby Studies

Role: Community Coach, London Irish

Once you leave university and start looking for work, naturally employers will be interested in your academic qualifications But they'll be just as interested in what else you did as a student, and what kind of work experience you might have that will help you hit the ground running.

Once again, choosing the right university can make all the difference Johnny Berwick is Community Rugby Coach at London Irish, and says his time studying for a BA (Hons) in Sports Management & Rugby Studies at Bucks wasn't just about the course, it was about the connections "By helping me to connect with the community and network with the right people, Bucks helped me gain valuable experience and a foot into the industry"

Louis Brown

Studied: BA (Hons) Music Management and Artist Development

Role: Digital Consultant and Project Manager at Island Records/Universal Music Group

Louis Brown works for Island Records, and knows that his BA (Hons) in Music Management and Artist Development from Bucks played a big part in getting him the role there. "My degree has helped me enormously," he says "A lot of industry experts recognise Bucks as being great for producing talent within music."

The real deal

Don't forget to check out other ways that a prospective university can help you. We have an additional support package called 'The Big Deal' which means that many Students' Union social activities are free, as well as free sports clubs, free societies, free skills workshop – it's the only arrangement like it in the UK. And the Big Deal has got even better, because for 2015 it can help you with essential course materials and text books, support for trips and visits as well as ensuring the Library can stay open 24/7 during term time.

No university can hand everything to you on a plate, of course. You need to bring your own drive and ambition with you. But find somewhere that can put you in touch with the right people, offers the right facilities and has graduates employed in the kinds of places you'd like to end up working in, and you'll be off to a good start.

Come to our open day on Saturday 21 February and start to realise your ambitions.

The Undergraduate Open Days at Bucks are among the most well liked features of the application process. We do our best to make them fun and enjoyable with lots of helpers to explain everything and answer your questions. If you are coming a long way by car or train then we do our best to make sure you get to see everything and speak to all the right people on your visit.

The day is split up onto the morning registration and welcome to the campus, then you can use your personal planner to visit the different course areas in the academic fair. You will have lots of time to book on to an accommodation tour for two of our nearby Student Halls (comprising a short coach trip or walk through the town centre to the venue). Or you can take a guided tour around our campus at High Wycombe.

This February open day we will be located in our Library because the afternoon session will be dedicated to special subject presentations around the campus. These are designed for students who have already applied to Bucks, but if you are not sure what you want to do yet you can still attend and take part.

After a buffet lunch the presentation will continue throughout the afternoon, but if you want to get the facts about fees, or learning support or the Students' Union you can visit the information zones to speak to staff and students who are responsible for these facilities. There is nothing like experiencing the campus and seeing the accommodation and lecture rooms where you could be studying in a few months' time.

Choosing a university is a big decision, but we at Bucks New University are here to help you make that choice, and we hope we have the course that you would like to take and a friendly and supportive atmosphere for you to study in.

We look forward to meeting you.
